

About Us

Kelly & Windsor Australia manufacture and distribute an exclusive collection of quilts, duvets, comforters, pillows and underblankets exclusively made with Australian grown alpaca wool fleece.

The vision and the brand

The vision behind the creation of the Kelly & Windsor brand, named after Ned Kelly the Australian bush ranger and Elizabeth Windsor, the Queen, was to create an Australian made exclusive and premium range of luxurious bedding using pure and natural Australian grown alpaca fleece. This vision required a commitment to innovative product design, development, testing, branding and investment in state of the art manufacturing equipment combined with a highly skilled and experienced team to create and manufacture the finest and most luxurious alpaca bedding collections to the highest quality standards.

The most innovative bedding manufacturer in Australia

With more than five years of innovation and dedicated experience in processing pure Australian grown alpaca fleece, the Kelly & Windsor alpaca bedding collections are increasingly being recognized as being innovative, unique, and exclusive and in having world class quality and outstanding performance characteristics. The combination of our creativity and innovation is setting the bedding market's future trends.

With a commitment to excellence and quality, we manufacture our unique and innovative alpaca bedding collections in Australia for the local and international markets in various styles, weights, and sizes.
